Vessel Utopia is getting ready to sail from Busan to Singapur. She has a mooring scheme of 4-2-3 fore and aft.

Captain to 2nd and 3rd officers: Do you copy?
2nd Officer: 5/5
3rd Officer: 3/5
Captain to 2nd officer: Pull on board all lines except 2 lines leading forward and 1 line leading aft.
Captain to 3rd officer: Pull on board all lines except 2 lines leading forward and 1 line leading aft.
Captain to Busan: May I start navigation?
Busan to Captain: What is your maximum depth from water line to the vessel's bottom and your height in metres from water level to the highest point of the vessel?
Captain to 2nd and 3rd officers: Cast off all lines.
Captain to Busan: I am not at anchor, or made fast to the shore, or aground and actually moving through the water under my own power.

Utopia now clears the berth and proceeds down river. The pilot now on board Utopia, calls up his pilot station.

Pilot to Pilot Station: I am going to Singapur. I expect to get there at a quarter to nine p.m., Eastern Standard
Time. November 12. (Eastern Standard Time is 5 hours behind UTC).
Busan to all: Navigational information follows on channel 12.

While proceeding abeam Taiwan island, its Coast Guard informs ....

Coast Guard to all: Vessel Lynx has taken the ground and is in the way of other ships. No ships can move in the area.
Utopia to Lynx: Can I help you?
Lynx to Utopia: It is not necessary.

So Utopia decides to anchor.

Utopia to Taiwan: Where can I anchor?

Five hours later Lynx is refloated.

Taiwan to all: The navigable part of the waterway is clear. You may proceed.
Utopia to Taiwan: I am going to pick up the anchor until it is stowed in position in the hawsepipe. Are the any other vessels?

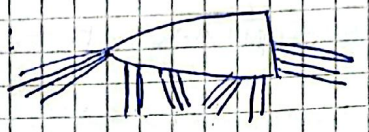

Taiwan to Utopia: Yes. Several vessels proceeding across, one with a difficult tow and an unmanned wreck which remains afloat moving involuntarily. Proceed at less than your normal speed along the designated area between the landward boundary of the traffic separation scheme and the adjacent coast.

After two days they get to Singapur, the pilot is ready to disembark and the port pilot to embark.

Port Pilot to Captain: Prepare both ladders: Give me shelter from the wind.
